

QUESTIONS OF LIFE OR DEATH . . . Civil Defense Director George Powell described some of the things which should be done in case of an emergency at a meeting sponsored by the Fern-Greenwood PTA Friday. Studying some of the questions brought up are Allen S. Moore, Torrance High School teacher; Mrs. R.E. Murphy, PTA president; Powell; and Mrs. F. E. Humphreys, parent education chairman.

this a better place in which to live.

All ye Carsonites should make note of Tuesday, March 22, 7:45 p.m. This is a Citizens Day in Education, and of vital interest to each of you. Do we have questions about the school situation? Now is the time to ask them—where? Banning High School. The most important people of Los Angeles City School System will be there to answer your questions.

The Wittenburg clan, of 21803 Archibald, and Mr. and Mrs. Logan Atwood, of 344 E. Carson, joined by other members of the family visited the snow at Green Horn Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Linn, of 114 E. 213th St., deviated from their regular routine and accompanied their youngsters to Crystal Lake, where they all enjoyed the remaining snow of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Krum, of 21017 S. Shearer, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curry, daughters Beth and Sue, who were visiting him over the week-end, attended the Moose Lodge dance Saturday evening.

Barbara Redmond, of 1623 W. 214th St., spent an enjoyable week-end with her school chum Janet Berry, of 1029 W. Carson St.

James G. Caldwell, president of the Carson Civic Betterment Assn., made a business trip to Sacramento.

M. C. Hedgecock of Hampton Tract, is home from the hospital recuperating from surgery.

Our thanks to Mrs. James Tyler for the lovely marble cake she baked for the Carson Civic Betterment Assn. By the way, Mrs. Tyler is also chairman for the group selling kitchen products to procure a coffee maker for the association.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Lloyd Rowe of 21923 Moneta Ave., whose mother passed away in North Dakota.

Louis Duroy, of 22124 Moneta Ave., has quite a menagerie in his back yard—expecting more as he has three incubators in action containing pedigreed eggs—pheasants, pea fowl, geese, and jungle fowl.

The Keystone Woman's Clubhouse is sporting a brand new hot water heater, and much credit goes to J. H. Parker for the time and work he donated for installation. Mrs. Parker is the president of the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Marguerite Helback, a long-time member of the Keystone Woman's Club, is recuperating at her home after a stay in Queen of Angels Hospital.

Mrs. M. Q. Wallace, principal of Carson St. School, attended the Health Luncheon at the Biltmore Hotel. Her guests were Mrs. Ethel Bromley, principal of 232nd St. School, and Mrs. Dorothy Moehlman, principal of Normont School.

Mrs. Roy E. Carter, president of Carson St. School PTA, and Mrs. Wallace, principal, of the school, attended a bond issue meeting Friday at Banning High School.

Carson School PTA Board will have its regular meeting Thursday morning at 9:30, March 17. Fathers' Night will be Thursday, March 17, at 7:30 o'clock, for Carson PTA. The election of officers for next year will take place—also a program—so get father out to meet the teachers and the gang.

Also the Dominguez Carson Coordinating Council meets Thursday night, 8 o'clock, Mar. 17, at Dolores St. School. The program is safety and these meetings are open to everyone. The problems vital to this community are being solved. This group of people is making a terrific effort to make Safety on the job is not accidental!

ACCIDENT PREVENTION is serious business to the people of Union Carbide. They work with extremes of temperature and pressure in many fields, yet last year their over-all record was 73 per cent better than for U. S. industry as a whole.

1,500,000 MAN-HOURS and no lost time accidents... 2,500,000 man-hours with no disabling accidents... 24 years, covering a total of 5,668,533 accident-free labor hours. These are but a few examples of safety records at various Union Carbide plants.

IN RECOGNITION of these achievements, Union Carbide was granted the 1953 Award of Honor of the National Safety Council.

But safety goes beyond the plant with the people of Union Carbide. In many areas, they have enrolled in home safety programs. Through these, whole families learn how to avoid accidents—in the home, on the street, at school, and at play.

IN 1954, Union Carbide plants received 133 awards from the National Safety Council. These awards, given in recognition of plant and home safety programs, included six Awards of Honor and nineteen Awards of Merit.

THE PEOPLE OF UCC are proud of these awards. But their greatest satisfaction comes from the knowledge that they are helping to increase safety—both on and off the job.
